“ATLA has a wonderful cooperative ethos and there is a willingness among its members to help and assist each other both in their day-to-day tasks as well as in their larger career goals.”

- Armin Siedlecki

Benefits and Opportunities
Available with ATLA Membership

Professional Development
Expand your skills and knowledge through programs that support professional development:

• Creating the Leaders of Tomorrow, a program established to train future library directors
• Scholarships and Grants, including Advocacy Innovation Grants, Diversity Scholarships, and Grants for Continuing Education
• ATLA Job Board post vacant positions or find your next job

Membership Publications
Take advantage of publication opportunities with our open access journal, Theological Librarianship, the ATLA Summary of Proceedings, and ATLA Press, an open monograph press. Stay informed with the ATLA Newsletter and Theology Cataloging Bulletin.

Reciprocal Borrowing Program
Participate with other ATLA members to grant check-out privileges to each other’s patrons.

ATLA Annual Conference
Learn, network, and share with more than 220 colleagues and speakers from around the world focused on religion and theological librarianship.

Community
Communicate and network on our listservs, at the ATLA Annual Conference, and through committee and group work.

Consortia Opportunities
Purchase valuable library services and resources at a discounted rate through participating members in consortia purchasing. Current offers include EBSCO, OCLC, SCELC, JSTOR, and ACLS Humanities E-Books.

Committees & Groups
Impact and transform theological librarianship by joining one of the many committees, interest groups, regional groups, and denominational groups.
Join the American Theological Library Association

“I like that ATLA fosters a network of people who are passionate about (or at least greatly interested in) their work. Because of this, ATLA librarians are willing to help each other to become better theological librarians.”
- Melody Layton McMahon

We are more than 800 scholars, librarians, students, libraries, and organizations working together to support theological and religious studies libraries and librarians through programs, services, and products.

ATLA is a professional association comprised of individual, institutional, and affiliate members.

ATLA’s ecumenical membership represents many faith traditions and denominations.

Contact a Member Representative today!
MemberRep@atla.com