Meet Our Board

The board of directors shall consist of twelve (12) directors, organized in three (3) classes of four (4) directors each. Four (4) directors shall be elected by the membership of the Association each year. The board elects, from among its number, three officers: the president, the vice president, and the secretary.

FY2010 Officers were: David Stewart, President; Roberta Schaafsma, Vice President; Eileen Crawford, Secretary. For more information about the board, including its current membership, click here: http://www.atla.com/Members/divisions/bod/Pages/default.aspx

Dr. Dennis A. Norlin Announces Retirement

Dr. Dennis A. Norlin announced to the ATLA Board of Directors his decision to retire early from the position of Executive Director, effective June 30, 2010.

Dr. Norlin asked that the following be shared with the ATLA members:

“It has been my privilege and pleasure to serve as this unique association’s Executive Director for the past 15 years. It has certainly been the highlight of my professional life, and I have been blessed and enriched by my relationships with ATLA’s members, staff, and friends.

I leave with a light heart and great confidence for the Association’s future. Led by a forward thinking Board of Directors, supported by incredibly talented, professional staff, and enriched by the energy, creativity, and collaboration of its members, ATLA has every reason to be confident as it enters the next chapter of its history.

I want to thank the Board of Directors, the staff, and the members with whom I have worked during my tenure here. It has truly been a remarkable adventure.”

During his tenure ATLA has grown to include nearly 1,000 members and the provision of programs, products, and services in support of theological and religious studies libraries and librarians has been greatly strengthened. The American Theological Library Association is deeply grateful for Dr. Norlin’s dedication and leadership over the past fifteen years.

From the New Executive Director

Dear ATLA Friends,

I am honored to have been selected the new Executive Director and look forward to working with ATLA’s outstanding staff in continuing the tradition of service to our members.

Brenda Bailey-Hainer
The Association organized its work by pursuing four organizational ends:

1. Activities and Programs That Support Professional Development for Association Members
2. Activities and Programs That Support the Profession of Theological Librarianship
3. Products and Services That Serve Theological Libraries and Their Constituents
4. Activities and Programs That Encourage Collaboration

2010 ATLA ANNUAL CONFERENCE SUMMARY

Congratulations to the Theological Education Association of Mid-American Librarians (TEAM-A)! As your theme stated, “Where new things happen” describes exactly some of the innovative ideas and events you provided to our conference attendees.

The 2010 ATLA Annual Conference held at the Louisville Marriott Downtown was well planned and organized, creating an excellent conference experience for all members in attendance. Once again, I was delighted to be a part of this international gathering for the premiere ecumenical library association. Our conference attracted a diverse group of librarians who hailed from around the world. TEAM-A did a great job utilizing social media as an additional form of conference communication, trying an alternative to our banquet while at the same time allowing us to continue tradition at a closing reception. Volunteers at the Local Host Table ably filled in all of the blanks that surfaced at the conference, providing a wealth of information to us all as they led various hosted excursions for our members’ enjoyment. ATLA’s annual conference attracted 350 members, exhibitors, and guests—which is an increase over last year’s attendance.

For 2010, we had 39 first time attendees, 26 new members, and 4 international members; forty-six members received travel grants. We experienced the attention to detail, the knowledge imparted, and the enthusiasm displayed by the highly regarded presenters, exhibitors, and staff that played a very important role in the execution of the annual conference. All of the interest groups, panels, papers, and roundtables were well attended. In fact some sessions were viewed as “mini plenaries” due to the high attendance by members. The highlights of the conference were our two plenary speakers, the taste of Louisville opening reception and, of course, our day on Southern Baptist’s and Louisville Presbyterian’s campuses.

As usual, the many wonderful photos taken at the conference will be available to members via Shutterfly.com. Click on the link below to download and/or print your favorites. The case-sensitive password for entering each of these sites: atla

Finally, a huge thank you to everyone that contributed to the overall success of our conference: the Annual Conference and Education committee members, the board of directors, our speakers, presiders, regional, denominational, and interest group members, ATLA staff, and all the ATLA members who make me feel extremely proud to be a part of this great association. I am exceptionally fortunate, privileged, and blessed.

See you in Chicago, June 8-11, 2011.

THEOLOGICAL LIBRARIANSHIP COURSE

The course continues to be an overwhelming success. Dr. Carisse Berryhill designed it in a unique way, to include online conversations with ATLA members with various areas of expertise along with important readings and written assignments. The course is now a permanent and important part of the UIUC LEEP program, and, in fact, was the model for an important IMLS grant that the University of Illinois and Syracuse University received last year.

In December 2009, Dr. Berryhill was selected for the second time to receive an important award for her teaching from Web-based Information Science Education (WISE), which uses advanced online technology to enrich education and foster relationships among students, faculty, and universities (www.wiseeducation.org). Dr. Berryhill is one of seven winners of the WISE Faculty of the Year Award for Excellence in Online Education. The award is given to faculty nominated by WISE students from institutions other than the faculty member’s home institution. Students in Theological Librarianship who did NOT attend UIUC nominated her for this award. WISE awardees receive a crystal WISE globe to illustrate the global network of WISE consortium members and online students.

GRANTS FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION

In its commitment to support professional education opportunities, ATLA provides continuing education grants for programs. The Professional Development Committee invites both regional groups associated with ATLA, and individual institutional libraries, to create educational programming and apply for a grant. During the reporting period, two grants were awarded totaling $1,050.

- Minnesota Theological Library Association ($600.00) - Assessment and Theological Libraries
- Chicago Area Theological Library Association ($450.00) - A Fresh Look at Library Services

ATLA SALARY AND BENEFITS SURVEY

The first ever ATLA Salary and Benefits Survey was published in fall 2009. 112 ATLA members across North America participated in the survey. This number represents a 36% response rate and garnered useful information for members to use during budgeting and planning. Although economic turbulence may have led to rapid fluctuation in compensation levels, we thought that it was essential to document this aspect of the field to provide data for future budget and human resource decision-making.

THEOLOGICAL LIBRARIES MONTH

The goal of Theological Libraries Month is to advance the importance and value of theological libraries and library services to targeted faculty, administrators, staff, and students. There was much discussion over the years about promoting theological libraries. TLM was launched in June 2006 with eighteen institutions officially conducting activities.

Fifty-three institutions have reported their participation in TLM 2009. Fourteen institutions applied for and received TLM Mini-Grants to help fund their TLM activities. We received 60 entries in the TLM Cartoon Caption Contest. At least 24 institutions have submitted plans, photos, and summaries of their campus activities.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE WEBINAR

ACTIVITIES AND PROGRAMS THAT SUPPORT THE PROFESSION OF THEOLOGICAL LIBRARIANSHIP, continued

WABASH CENTER COLLOQUIY

Jointly sponsored by the Wabash Center for Teaching and Learning in Theology and Religion and ATLA, the 2010 Teaching and Learning Colloquy on The Role of Theological School Librarians took place at Wabash College from April 22-26, 2010. According to the course description, participants in the colloquy “explored the vocation of theological librarianship and promote the development of strategies and skills for increasing the effectiveness of librarians in the teaching/learning/research process in their own institutional and professional contexts.”

The course was be led by Roger Loyd of Duke Divinity School, Amy Limpitlaw of Yale Divinity School, Cait Kokolus of St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, Dennis Norlin of ATLA, and Wabash Center’s Paul Myhre.

MEMBER LOYALTY PROGRAM

This program was introduced to thank our current Institutional, International Institutional, and Affiliate members for their involvement in ATLA as members and customers. Loyalty benefits are based on your library’s ATLA product subscription level and include:

- Individual membership (17 new members)
- Conference registration (106 conference registrations)
- Gifts to the Scholarships and Grants Annual Fund. (12 donations totaling $1,800)

NEW MEMBER BENEFITS INTRODUCED DURING THE YEAR

- Oxford University Press offered a 20% discount to ATLA members who want to subscribe to Oxford Biblical Studies Online, your companion to teaching Biblical Studies, and a 10% discount on the one-time purchase perpetual access option.

- Westminster John Knox Press offered a 25% discount on its standing order program.

- Statewide California Electronic Library Consortium (SCELC) has partnered with ATLA to provide broader offerings at the best price to libraries. SCELC was selected due to its cooperative, library-focused reputation and affordable fee schedule. ATLA’s Institutional and Affiliate members in the United States will now have the opportunity to license certain electronic resources not currently available through local consortial agreements. All eligible ATLA Institutional and Affiliate members may elect to become ATLA/SCELC Affiliates; they will then be able to acquire access to certain electronic resources at reduced rates negotiated by SCELC.

- JSTOR offers accessible pricing to ATLA Institutional, International Institutional and Affiliate member libraries affiliated with free-standing seminaries. JSTOR took into account the unique research and collection development needs of ATLA member institutions and developed a fee model that will enable more institutions to access this important scholarly content. The reduced fees are available for free-standing ATLA member institutions (those not affiliated with or sharing library resources with other institutions that do not meet JSTOR’s classification standards).

MEMBER CONSORTIA

Consortial and discounted pricing remain a highly valued benefit for Institutional members in all categories. During the reporting period new consortia were developed and offered and existing consortia changed.

- EBSCO Publishing—Staff negotiated a new consortium that debuted fiscal year 2009-2010 and 35 ATLA members participated. The consortium was open to ATLA members who were unable to participate in existing regional consortia or were new EBSCO customers. ATLA databases and partner products were offered in addition to several EBSCO databases.

ATLA worked with EBSCO staff to develop webinars to educate ATLA members about administrative tools and platforms improvements including enhanced scripture searching.

• OCLC—The ATLA/OCLC Consortium is the longest running consortial benefit ATLA offers to Institutional, International Institutional and Affiliate members. ATLA worked with OCLC representatives to offer webinars explaining the transition to the WorldCat platform. This information was out of date with the March 2010 announcement regarding transfer of secondary databases to EBSCO.

This consortium underwent a significant change in March 2010 when OCLC elected to discontinue offering secondary databases including the ATLA Religion Database and ATLASerials. Licensing of these and other secondary databases was transferred to EBSCO Publishing. A significant amount of staff time was spent explaining this change to ATLA members and transitioning members to the ATLA/EBSCO Publishing consortium to maintain access.

3. PRODUCTS AND SERVICES THAT SERVE THEOLOGICAL LIBRARIES AND THEIR CONSTITUENTS

ATLA'S PRODUCT LINE
ATLA's in-house team of content, technical and marketing experts offers a prestigious product line of electronic resources to support the scholarly study of religion and theology. These resources, including the ATLA Religion Database® (ATLA RDB®) and ATLASerials® (ATLAS®), are subscribed to by thousands of institutions worldwide. ATLA RDB is the premier online index of citations covering journal articles, book reviews and essay collections in all fields of religion. ATLAS is an online full-text collection of major religion and theology journals. ATLA also oversees historical archives initiatives and works with several publishing partners to offer electronic versions of their specialized index and abstract products.

NFAIS
ATLA is an active member of NFAIS, the National Federation of Advanced Information Services (http://www.nfais.org/). NFAIS is a global, non-profit, volunteer-powered membership organization that serves the information community—that is, all those who create, aggregate, organize, and otherwise provide ease of access to and effective navigation and use of authoritative, credible information. ATLA staff members Dennis Norlin, Tami Luedtke, and Margot Lyon attended the annual conference and the humanities roundtable in 2010.

Over the course of five years, 524 endangered journals and serials devoted to Hispanic and Indigenous religion in North and Latin America, and published during the period 1850-1985, were preserved on microfilm by ATLA’s Preservation program through this grant. The NEH awarded $402,000 for the completion of this project which began in May 2005 and was completed on time in April 2010.

ATLA AND THE SCARECROW PRESS

The Association continued publishing the ATLA Book Series with Scarecrow Press, an imprint of the Rowman & Littlefield Publishing Group. Justin Travis became the new ATLA Book Series Editor in March 2010, replacing now-retired Executive Director Dennis Norlin, who had served as editor since January 2009. Justin is a member of the Indexing staff at ATLA and editor of the Research in Ministry Online database.

In April the latest ATLA Book series volume, From Altar-Throne to Table: the Campaign for Frequent Holy Communion in the Catholic Church by Joseph Dougherty, was published by our partners at Scarecrow Press. It is the fiftieth work in the ATLA Monograph Series. Forthcoming, History of the Telugu Christians: A Bibliography by James Taneti has been accepted for the series and will be published in April 2011. It will be the sixtieth volume in the ATLA Bibliography Series. The ATLA Book Series continues to seek out annotated bibliographies and monographs whose publication benefits the myriad fields of religious studies.

ATLASERIALS FOR ALUM

ATLA continued the work on the $1,200,000 grant from Lilly Endowment Inc., which covers the cost of ATLAS for ALUM for a three-year period for eligible ATLA/ATS member sites. Currently more than 130 ATLA member institutions participate in this grant program. As part of this grant, ATLA also completed a major article recommendation project with The Text This Week (available at http://www.textweek.com), a popular ecumenical website for clergy and congregations that features a wide variety of resources for scripture study, reflection, and liturgy (http://www.atla.com/about/pressroom/Pages/pr02-03-10_Textweek.aspx).
4. ACTIVITIES AND PROGRAMS THAT ENCOURAGE COLLABORATION

ATLA/IFLA/OCLC COOPERATION

Jointly sponsored by OCLC and International Federation of Library Associations, the Early Career Fellows program offers early career librarians an opportunity to sample a variety of library and information science sites and to make connections with their American and European counterparts. Fellowships provide an intensive five week experience in the United States and Europe for new librarians from developing countries. ATLA provides funding for a theological librarian to participate as one of the six fellows.

The 2010 ATLA Fellow was Ms. Catherine Muriuki, University Librarian at Pan Africa Christian University in Nairobi, Kenya (back row on the right).

LILLY ENDOWMENT WEBSITES CONSULTATION

Margot Lyon, Director of Business Development, and Tami Luedtke, Director of Electronic Products and Services, represented ATLA at the Lilly Endowment Websites Consultation in Durham, North Carolina, October 4-6, 2009.

GENRE FORMS FOR RELIGIOUS TERMS PROJECT

ATLA is pleased to collaborate with the Library of Congress on the Religion Genre/Form Project, which kicked off in June 2010. ATLA staff will coordinate the discussion and responses as described below. ATLA seeks input from all catalogers interested in religion and will be working closely with the Catholic Library Association and Association of Jewish Libraries as well as other interested groups.

In July, 2008, the Library of Congress Acquisitions and Bibliographic Access (ABA) management team approved five new genre/form projects to be undertaken by the Policy and Standards Division (which was then called the Cataloging Policy and Support Office): cartography, law, literature, music, and religion. In addition, LC identified ATLA as the organization through which comments on the religion terms would be centralized.

BIBLIOTHÈQUES EUROPÉENNES DE THÉOLOGIE (BETH) MEETING

ATLA Director of Business Development Margot Lyon (second from left), attended the 38th General Assembly of Bibliothèques Européennes de Théologie (BETH) in Prague, Czech Republic, on September 19-23, 2009. Margot gave greetings to the attendees on behalf of ATLA’s executive director and staff and presented an overview of the relationship with BETH and a history of ATLA’s products and services, consortial opportunities, and relationships with the aggregators. She also expressed gratitude to EBSCO Publishing for sponsoring the conference. Eileen Crawford (ATLA Special Committee of the Association for International Collaboration), Melody Mazuk (Palmer Seminary), Kurt Berends and Greg Heynen (Theological Book Network) also attended (http://theo.kuleuven.be/beth/page/1/).

- Managing co-editors • David Stewart, Ron Crown
- Bibliographic Essays Editor • Beth Sheppard
- Columns Editor • Andrew J. Keck
- Critical Reviews Editor • Melody Layton McMahon

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES
In conjunction with the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign, the Association offers two courses: Introduction to Theological Librarianship and Introduction to Scholarly Writing for Theological Librarians. Under the leadership of its Professional Development committee the Association also supports NACO/CONSER funnel projects and provides grants for continuing education programs. For more information about these courses and programs, click here: http://www.atla.com/Members/development/Pages/default.aspx
Charitable Contributions

There are two ways members and others support the Association.

- The Scholarships and Grants Annual Fund provides travel grants for members to attend the annual conference, scholarships for under-represented minorities to enroll in the Introduction to Theological Librarianship class that the Association offers through the University of Illinois LEEP Program, and support for recruiting new theological librarians.

- The ATLA Endowment Fund is a long-term investment fund designed to support the future of the Association as the primary professional association for theological librarians.

We are grateful for the ongoing support of the following friends and members of ATLA.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

To the Board of Directors of American Theological Library Association

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of American Theological Library Association (the Association) as of August 31, 2010 and the related statements of activities and of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Association's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.
An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by the Association’s management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of American Theological Library Association as of August 31, 2010 and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTE 1. GENERAL PURPOSE DESCRIPTION

The American Theological Library Association (the Association) was organized to support and improve theological libraries, and to interpret the role of such libraries in theological education by developing and implementing standards of library service, promoting research, encouraging cooperative programs, and publishing and disseminating literature and research tools.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Method of Accounting - The financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

New Accounting Pronouncement - In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) established the FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) as the official source of authoritative generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) for all non-governmental entities. The Codification, which changes the referencing of financial standards, supersedes current authoritative guidance and is effective for financial periods ending after September 15, 2009. The Codification is not intended to change or alter existing GAAP and it is not expected to result in a change in accounting practice for the Association.

Basis of Presentation - In order to conform to provisions of generally accepted accounting principles, the Association, as a not-for-profit entity, is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities in three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets and permanently restricted net assets.

Unrestricted - Unrestricted net assets are available to finance the general operations of the Association. The only limits on the use of unrestricted net assets are the broad limits resulting from the nature of the Association, the environment in which it operates and the purposes specified in its articles of incorporation. Voluntary resolutions by the Board of Directors to designate a portion of the Association’s unrestricted net assets for specified purposes do not result in restricted funds. Since designations are voluntary and may be reversed by the Board at any time, designated net assets are included under the caption “unrestricted net assets.”

Temporarily Restricted - Temporarily restricted net assets result from (a) contributions and other inflows of assets, the use of which by the Association are limited by donor-imposed stipulations that either expire by passage of time or can be fulfilled and removed by action of the Association pursuant to those stipulations, (b) other asset enhancements and diminishments subject to the same kinds of stipulations, and (c) reclassifications to (or from) other classes of net assets as a consequence of donor-imposed stipulations, their expiration by passage of time or their fulfillment and removal by actions of the Association pursuant to those stipulations.

Permanently Restricted - Permanently restricted net assets (generally referred to as endowment funds) are assets that have donor-imposed restrictions that stipulate that the contributed resources be maintained permanently, but permit the Association to use or expend part or all of the income or other economic benefits derived from the donated assets.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - The Association considers all highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less at the date of acquisition to be cash equivalents, excluding such investments in money market accounts, for the purposes of the statement of cash flows.

Accounts Receivable - The Association grants trade credit to its customers consisting primarily of products or services delivered regarding religion databases, ATLAS and preservation library. Receivables are valued at management’s estimate of the amount that will ultimately be collected. The allowance for doubtful accounts is based on the Association’s historical collection experience. No allowance was considered necessary at August 31, 2010.

Investments - The investments of the Association are reported at fair value. The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount that would be received to sell that asset (or paid to transfer a liability) in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (the exit price).

Purchases and sales of the investments are reflected on a trade-date basis.

Dividend income is recorded on the ex dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis.

Prepaid Expenses and Deposits - Subsequent year annual conference and deposit expenses paid in the current year are deferred and recognized as expense when the meeting takes place.

Property and Equipment - Property and equipment are recorded at cost. The Association capitalizes all capital expenditures in excess of $500. Major additions are capitalized, while replacements, maintenance and repairs which do not improve or extend the lives of the respective assets are expensed currently. Depreciation and amortization are computed over the estimated useful lives of the related assets by the straight-line method.

- Equipment and software 5 years
- Leasehold improvements 5 - 10 years
- Reference library 5 years

Depreciation and amortization expense for the year ended August 31, 2010 was $226,449.

Intangible Assets - The Association accounts for intangible assets in accordance with the Intangibles - Goodwill and Other Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification. Intangible assets primarily consist of religion databases, ATLAS and a preservation library created through internal costs. The useful life of religion databases was estimated to be twenty years. ATLAS is being amortized over the estimated useful life of five years.

Amortization expense for the year ended August 31, 2010 was $633,631.

Advertising Cost - Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Inventory - Inventory includes material and supplies related to religion databases and are stated at the lower of cost (computed on a first-in, first-out basis) or market. The Association writes down its inventory for estimated obsolescence or excess inventory equal to the difference between the cost of inventory and the estimated market value based upon assumptions about future demand and market conditions.

Deferred Revenue - Represents amounts received from customers for products or services not yet delivered. Membership dues received in advance are deferred and recognized as revenue in the applicable membership period.

Deferred Rent - Deferred rent expense consists of “free rent” paid by the landlord at the outset of the lease. The Association is recognizing operating rent expense on the straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Functional Allocation of Expenses - The costs of providing the Association’s various programs and supporting services have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. According, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent Events - Subsequent events have been evaluated through January 14, 2011, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

NOTE 3. TAX STATUS

The Association is a tax-exempt organization as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and is exempt from federal income taxes on income related to its exempt purpose pursuant to Section 501(a) of the Code and has been classified as an organization which is not a private foundation under Section 509(a). The Association files Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax, Form 990-T Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return and Form 5500, Annual Return/Report of Employee Benefit Plan. The Association’s returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service until the applicable statute of limitation expires.
NOTE 4. INVESTMENTS

The Association invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the statement of financial position.
NOTE 5.  FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures Topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification established a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Basis of Fair Value Measurement

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Level</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Level 1</td>
<td>Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Level 2</td>
<td>Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Level 3</td>
<td>Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The methods used to measure fair value may produce an amount that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Association believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

During 2009, FASB updated its guidance on fair value measurements and disclosures to clarify that for equity and debt securities, major category should be defined as major security type, based on the nature and risks of the security. In determining whether disclosure for a particular security type is necessary and whether it is necessary to further separate a particular security type into greater detail, all of the following should be considered: the activity or business sector, vintage, geographic concentration, credit quality, or economic characteristic.
NOTE 5. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS (CONTINUED)

The following table sets forth, by level within the fair value hierarchy, the Association's investment assets at fair value as of August 31, 2010. As required, assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Association had no investment assets at fair value classified within Level 3 at August 31, 2010.

</tr>
</tbody>

Level 1 Measurements

Shares held in mutual funds and investments in U.S. Government treasury obligations are traded in active markets on national securities exchanges and are valued at closing prices on the last business day of the period presented. The fair values of mutual funds are determined by reference to the funds’ underlying assets, which are principally marketable equity and fixed income securities.

Level 2 Measurements

Most U.S. Government Agency obligations are generally valued by benchmarking model-derived prices to quoted market prices and trade data for identical or comparable securities. To the extent that quoted prices are not available, fair value is determined based on a valuation model that include inputs such as interest rate yield curves and credit spreads. Securities traded in markets that are not considered active are valued based on quoted market prices, broker or dealer quotations, or alternative pricing sources with reasonable levels of price transparency. Securities that trade infrequently and therefore have little or no price transparency are valued using the investment manager’s best estimates.

Money market funds and certificates of deposit are valued at cost which approximates their fair value.

NOTE 6.  PENSION PLAN

The Association has a contributory defined contribution pension plan qualified under Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, covering full-time employees who have met certain requirements as to length of service and age. The plan provides for a mandatory matching contribution equal to the amount of the employee’s salary reduction, but not to exceed 10% of the employee’s compensation, subject to Internal Revenue Code limitations. Pension expense was $179,300 for 2010.

NOTE 7.  OPERATING LEASES

The Association leases operating space under a noncancellable operating lease arrangement expiring in February 2021. The lease agreement provides for an annual base rent and payment for operating costs and real estate taxes which is adjusted annually. The rent expense for the lease was $266,498 for the year ended August 31, 2010. The annual future minimum lease payments are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year ending August 31,</th>

</tbody>
</table>
NOTE 8. CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Association to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash. The Association maintains its cash balances in financial institutions deemed to be creditworthy. Balances may at times exceed federally insured limits.

NOTE 9. CREDIT AGREEMENTS

The Association maintains a line of credit, which will expire on December 16, 2011. The maximum borrowing under the line of credit is $1,700,000. No borrowings were made against the line of credit during the year ended August 31, 2010.

The Association also has a letter of credit that will expire on February 28, 2011. The maximum borrowing under the letter of credit is $300,000. No borrowings were made against the letter of credit during the year ended August 31, 2010.

NOTE 11. AMERICAN THEOLOGICAL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION ENDOWMENT

The Association’s Endowment Fund consists of an individual fund established by the Board to secure the future of the Association as a membership organization and an endowment fund comprised of donor-restricted funds. As required by generally accepted accounting principles, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Board of Directors of the Association has interpreted the State Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (SPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Association classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the organization in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by SPMIFA. In accordance with SPMIFA, the Association considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

1. The duration and preservation of the fund
2. The purposes of the organization and the donor-restricted endowment fund
3. General economic conditions
4. The possible effect of inflation and deflation
5. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments
6. Other resources of the organization
7. The investment policies of the organization

Return Objectives and Risk Parameters

The Endowment Fund shall be invested to ensure the safety, flexibility and growth of the funds. The principal of the funds is not be subjected to undue risk and therefore, is invested primarily for growth of principal rather than for income. Additionally, the funds remain easily accessible which allows them to be subject to changes in investment strategy approved by the Executive Director, Director of Finance and President of the Board of Directors. Professional managers have been employed to manage the endowment funds, and performance of such managers shall be periodically evaluated.

Spending Policy and How the Investment Objectives Relate to Spending Policy

The Association has established a spending policy which attempts to balance the long-term objective of maintaining the principal of the endowment with the goal of providing support for projects to promote growth and achieve the mission of the Association. Dividends, capital appreciation and other earnings constitute the unrestricted portion of the Fund. Annually, the Executive Director, Director of Finance and the President of the Board of Directors will recommend to the Board how much of the unrestricted portion should be spent. Upon approval by the Board, the funds will be used for programs rather than absorption of general budget deficits or Association administrative expenses. For the year ended August 31, 2010, there were no accumulated unspent earnings.
