Mission Statement

- “to promote the study of the history, theology, and mission of the Moravian Church (Unitas Fratrum) by serving as a nexus for Moravian scholarship that links scholars, research institutions, and resources. Attention is given to the entire historical tradition of the Moravian Church as well as to issues relating to contemporary concerns of the Moravians in North America and worldwide.”

CENTER FOR MORAVIAN STUDIES

Established in 1992 through a generous grant from the Arthur Vining Davis Foundation, the Center for Moravian Studies is here to share the rich history and scholarship of the Moravian Church. Check out our lectures and exhibits and subscribe to our publications to learn more about Moravian influence and thought.

Moses Lectures in Moravian Theology

The lecture series is named for the first dean of Moravian Theological Seminary, Bishop Walter Vivian Moses. The Moses Lecture Series captures the deep history and theology of the Moravian Church.

The 2023 Moses Lecture was held on Thursday, Aug. 17. Christina Petterson, PhD, of Christiansfeld, Denmark, presented, "Changes in Bethlehem, Changes in Unity: Inner and Outer Aspects of Moravian Organisation." Watch the recording here.
